Bayshore Accident Sends Auto Spinning

—Tribune photo

Redwood City Officer Robert West inspects this sedan which collided on Bayshore at Chestnut St. shortly before noon today. The car skidded 180 feet and came to rest near Harbor Blvd. According to West the car contained a family of vacationists including an expectant mother who is believed to have escaped serious injury.

Early Morning Blaze Routs Trio, $3000 Loss

Fire of undetermined origin swept through an upstairs living quarters at 1036 Main St. early Wednesday morning, sending a family of three into the street in their night clothes and causing an estimated $3000 worth of damage.

Redwood City firemen first heard of the blaze from Annie Offerman, 1018 Main St., who said she discovered the flames while watering her lawn shortly after midnight. When she saw the flames next door to her yard she ran to the fire department, two blocks away.

Simultaneously Joyce Steadman, 14, who was sleeping on a couch heard some glass break. Awakening, she found the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Steadman, on fire. She roused her parents and all of them fled down a front steps to the street.

The fire was in the rear of the building.

Firemen confined it mainly to a kitchen and living room, but there was smoke damage throughout the upstairs and water damage downstairs where a blueprinting machine was soaked.

Two business establishments are under the living quarters. They are the R. C. Blueprint Co. and McWilliams-Lehman-Knight, architects. Both suffered water damage.

Chief Joe Lodi said the building, owned by Andrew Hynding of South San Francisco, was one of the oldest in the city. The two story frame structure was coated with black building paper on the inside, he continued.

The flames working on the building paper set up such a heavy smoke that firemen were forced to use oxygen masks.

Black smoke, spliced with flames, poured from the upstairs windows. Some flames reached an attic, although the flames were extinguished before really serious damage was done there.

Fire Inspector Richard Drivon pointed out that the blaze had apparently started in a pantry. He could not determine the cause, saying that there was no electrical wiring in the pantry and that the family had used no cooking facilities the night before the fire, having eaten out.

Joyce Steadman said that she attempted to call the fire department by means of a telephone but this failed when no operator at central answered her signal.

Fire department records list the time of the alarm as 12:36 a.m. Lodi said the fire was under control by 12.52 a.m.

Also in the same structure was a shoemaker shop at 1038 Main St., but this establishment suffered only slight loss.

Firemen used two pumpers and a ladder truck in putting out the flames.

In addition to the early morning fire, they put out a grass fire earlier in the rear of the American Legion Bldg. at Rogers St. and El Camino Real.

Rehearsal for Coronation

Benedict V. DeBellis, general chairman of the state and national conventions of the Sons of Italy in America, is pictured trying the crown on Jeanette Baccei of Redwood City, chosen queen of the convention in a statewide contest. This dress rehearsal was held in preparation for the coronation ball and queen pageant at the Fairmont Hotel tonight. More than 2000 persons were expected in San Francisco this week for the national conclave of the patriotic, fraternal Italian-American order.

Valuables Taken In Car Boosts

Two car boosts were reported to the sheriff's office Sunday.

Articles valued at approximately $200 and $40 in cash were taken from a parked sedan near San Gregoria Beach. Occupants of a car reported they left the automobile at 11 a.m. Sunday and discovered when they returned at 7:45 that the wind wing had been broken and the lock on the glove compartment broken.

Reporting the losses were William J. Becker, Oakland; Kathline Ayers, Berkeley; Marina Bel, San Francisco, and Grover Taylor, Alameda.

Brush Fire In Belmont Nears Homes

A brush fire in the Belmont hills which threatened five homes under construction and destroyed a pile of lumber valued at $50 was put out Tuesday afternoon by the Belmont Fire Dept.

The fire, reported at 1:25 p.m., was in the brush area between Ponce and Lincoln Aves., and was carried eastward toward Cipriani Ave. by a strong wind. Firemen brought the blaze under control within 10 minutes, after flames were halted by a fire trail running parallel to Cipriani Ave. "Mopping up" operations, however, lasted for two hours, firemen said.

According to Capt. Jack Morrissey, all of Belmont's fire fighting equipment including Tank Three, was called to the scene. A standin rig was sent up by the San Carlos Fire Dept.

Morrissey said that if it hadn't been for the fire trail, flames would have jumped Cipriani Ave. and moved up a hill into another large brush area. More than five acres were burned off, Morrissey said.

Tuesday's fire was the first fire reported in Belmont in 18 days and the second brush fire reported since the first of the year.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE
(Always Last on the Train)

We start our column today with a salute to T. Louis Chess, Southern Pacific's general passenger agent who, by his pleasing and considerate manner, gives life and substance to the SP's slogan, "Your Friendly Railroad." A public service corporation slogan is meaningless unless practiced by the corporation personnel. Louie Chess not only practices it himself, but he insists upon it from all his subordinates.

This is a form of enlightened public relations which is comparatively new with public utilities, especially those holding virtual monopolies in services rendered. Chess seldom agrees with the commuters' point of view; but he disagrees with such friendly and smiling candor that you cannot help but respect and like him. For our money, he IS the "Friendly Southern Pacific."

A case in point: Last week Mr. Chess contacted Chmn. Al Armitage of the Commuters Club transportation committee, said the SP was still losing money on its Peninsula commuter service and would like to discuss the present rate structure with members of the club. A luncheon meeting was arranged at the SF Commercial Club with Louie serving as host. Commuters attending were Pres. Paul Allen, Bill McKeegan, Elmer Ross, Richard tum Suden, Tony Doolin, Herb Shepard and Caboose, the latter acting as chairman pro tem for Armitage. Representing SP, in addition to Chess, were A. P. Hardy, district passenger agent and L. G. Crocket, a rate expert.

The discussion waxed warm, but never unfriendly. No punches were pulled on either side. The Commuters were well prepared with the latest SP balance sheet and dividend information, and they made it quite clear that in the light of present earnings and the recent 20 per cent increase in commutation fares, they would resist any further increase "to the last commuter." The Commuters went a step further and insisted upon being granted a 5-day week commute. They pointed out the S.P. itself recognized the 5-day week by eliminating many Saturday commuter trains, thus effecting substantial savings to the company while still charging patrons for the sixth-day roundtrip.

In short, we commuters now stay home and pay the Southern Pacific for a Saturday commute service which no longer even exists. We feel certain the State Utilities Commission would have no difficulty in recognizing this inequity.

GARDEN: Langley Promises Another Seed Offer Soon

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Arthur E. Navlet of Oakland addresses the California Horticultural Society Monday evening, illustrating with slides, "Novelties From the Seed Farms." (All of which reminds me that in the not too distant future, we'll be having another seed offering through this column.) The CHS meetings are in the SF Commercial Club's quarters.

The University of Chicago Press is publishing a book in October, "Growth Regulators for Garden, Field and Orchard," by John C. Mitchell and Paul C. Marth. Both are USDA research workers, and their book will detail ways to kill weeds, make cuttings root readily, increase fruit set, and related data. Going to sell at $2.50, so save your pennies—the ones you save growing your own radishes.

Down Miami there's a business which sells chemicals and instructions for hydroponics. One phase in the folder intrigues me. (It's intended to intrigue, but differently.) "The book . . . tells how Russell Holt of Palm Beach built a complete household subsistence garden on a three foot strip between his driveway and wall. . . ." Looks like no holds are barred.

Mrs. Clay Nelson, Pleasanton, writes: "I live in a very gravelly section and would like to know what flowers do well in that kind of soil? Would calla lilies, shasta daisies and gladiolis do well?

"I water the garden and it seeps right down. However, I have grown some beautiful zinnias and asters and petunias, but would like more advice for next year's planting.

"When should calla lilies be planted? I have a very shady spot on my lawn under a large tree and planted petunias and morning glories but they are very small. I would like to have some climbing flower or vine with flowers. Do snowball trees like shade and does heather? I have a shady place in front of the house.

"What shrubs grow quickly, and I mean very quickly?

"Can you give me a white wash mixture that will stick to trees?"

Gladiolis need good drainage, but I wouldn't advise planting anything in a gravelly mixture. Rather, the wise practice is to add soil and compost, leafmold, etc. to make a suitable mixture, rather than attempt to pick out those things which will tolerate the present hazards.

Calla lilies can be planted now and next month. They like a very moist and acid soil, and will do well in the shade. Be generous with the organic matter in the bed for calla lilies.

The Australian pea vine, the Cup and Saucer vine, Cobaea scandens climbing roses, and passion vine are a few which make rapid growth.

Heather likes partial shade while the Snowball, or viburnum, will take a little shade also. Deep shade isn't best for either the heather or viburnum.

When anyone asks what shrubs grow quickly, the first thing that comes to mind is broom. Spiraea, pittosporum, philadelphus, or mockorange, hydrangea, bridal veil shrub are to be considered.

Don't overlook honeysuckle and mandevilla sauveolens among the fragrant vines. . . . I don't know of any better white wash than that sold at most hardware stores . . . . just mix it with water.

"My cure for earwigs and sowbugs is four mallard ducks," writes Ethel Barrett of Hayward. "Green worms and aphis got on the cabbage and so I dusted with wood ashes and that took care of them. I used quite a lot of compost and put a heavy mulch of corn fodder between rows of my limas. The vines are loaded, the pods large and well-filled. I planted corn on the 10th of July and it came through four days later. I started muskmelons in half milk cartons on a hot compost heap. They produced many melons, starting to mature the third week in July."

It's apparent from the Ethel Barrett letter that she's a green-thumber who takes her vegetable growing seriously. . . . More power to her.

Albert Barthes' Body Found

The body of Albert Barthes, 36-year-old head mechanic of the San Carlos Airport, who was killed when his airplane crashed into the Lake Pillsbury Reservoir Saturday, was recovered this morning by a navy diving crew, San Carlos Airport officials reported.

Mr. Barthes, who left San Carlos Friday on a hunting trip, crashed into the waters of the lake at about 7 o'clock Saturday night. An extensive search for his body was conducted by soldiers stationed near the north Lake County reservoir, and by a navy diving crew flown up to the lake from Alameda.

Ellis Weiner of the San Carlos Airport and Roy Patton, owner of the airport, flew up to aid in the search Sunday. Patton has not yet returned, Weiner reported today.

Weiner said that he believed Barthes had misjudged the distance of his plane from the water, which resulted in the crash. Weiner said that it is very difficult to judge distance over smooth water.

Mr. Barthes, who lived at 626 Scott St., Redwood Village, has worked for the San Carlos Airport for about three years as head mechanic, Weiner said. During the war Mr. Barthes was in charge of maintenance at the army flying school at Wickenburg, Ariz. He was a native of St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Barthes leaves his wife Marie, and two small children, Marcia and Sharon Barthes, all of Redwood Village. He was a member of F&AM 190 of St. Paul.

The body was taken to Lakeport and will be brought to Redwood City sometime tonight. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Franklin and Crowe Mortuary.

Fritz Redl To Address County Group

A noted expert on the problems of adolescents and preadolescents, Dr. Fritz Redl of Detroit, will speak in San Mateo Friday night, the Mental Hygiene Society of San Mateo announced today.

"Dr. Redl, who is one of the nation's outstanding authorities, is vacationing in California," Robert Hardgrove, society president, said, "but he readily agreed to meet with San Mateo County people when we told him of the Child Guidance Clinic here and other steps taken to combat juvenile delinquency."

He will speak on "Children Who Get Caught," at 8:30 p.m. at the San Mateo City Hall.

It will be the first fall program by the mental hygiene group, formed here last year as part of the nationwide organization devoted to promoting greater understanding of mental and emotional problems.

Hardgrove said all interested parents as well as those who deal with children professionally were invited to hear Dr. Redl.

"Dr. Redl's experiences are told with great force and humanness, and his revealing stories are packed with humor as well as amazing insight," Hardgrove said.

The speaker came to the U.S. in 1936 from Vienna at the invitation of the Rockefeller Foundation to do research on adolescence. He is now professor of social work at Wayne University and director of Detroit group projects sponsored by the Junior League there.

His talk here will stress causes of problems in children who get caught—and in those who don't—with emphasis on preventive measures for parents and professional workers, such as teacher, social workers, doctors and others.

Rhodes Plea For Freedom Rejected

Superior Court Judge A. R. Cotton Monday denied the freedom bid of Harold E. Rhodes, 43, Burlingame, who operated a real estate firm in San Carlos.
estate firm in San Carlos.

Rhodes, who is serving a term in the county jail following his conviction on a grand theft charge, made a motion for modification of probation which was denied.

Sept. 24 was set as a trial date for Joal White, 36, Redwood City, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. White was arrested on July 9 after he confronted Redwood City Policeman Herman Estes after White had called the police station asking an officer to come to his home.

Harry Dickerson, 30, pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and Aug. 25 was set as the date for hearing on a motion for probation and sentence.

Boyd Braden, 59, Sat Mateo, was admitted to probation for two years on condition that he serve four months in the county jail for passing bad checks. He had been arrested July 19.

Willard E. Drake, 32, was granted probation for two years on condition he serve 30 days in the county jail. He was arrested July 31 on a charge of car theft and subsequently pleaded guilty.

Frank Ontiveros In Jail Again

Frank Ontiveros, 24, 440 Middlefield Rd., who four years ago was accused of murdering his 19-year-old wife, Martha, was arrested Tuesday on a charge of failure to provide.

His present wife, Elsie, filed a complaint that Ontiveros, a cement worker, had failed to provide for their two minor children, aged three years and nine months, between Aug. 8 and 22.

Bail was set at $250.

Ontiveros was freed of the murder charge on motion of the district attorney's office that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a jury trial. The first Mrs. Ontiveros was found dead in a roadside ditch near San Mateo and an autopsy revealed she had died of strangulation.

'Be on the Alert,' Ferrell Warns

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell, who returned from his vacation, said that he didn't have any information as to the influx of gangsters into this county, but said, "I think it is wise for the law enforcing officers to be on the alert for such a situation."

Sen. Sheridan Downey two days ago charged that the West was becoming a haven for Eastern gangsters and thugs. Gov. Earl Warren also declared that there had been an influx of outside gangsters into this area.

Ferrell said that the Maurice Malter murder case was the only one in the county recently which even resembled a gangland murder and pointed out that the Los Angeles man may have been murdered and robbed because of his winnings at the Bay Meadows Race Track last December.

Ferrell said that there was nothing new that he could comment on in regard to the local gambling situation. He said that three ordinances drawn up by his office, now before the board of supervisors, should be helpful in cleaning up gambling.

"At any rate that's the design of the ordinances to help in dealing with the gambling situation," he said.

He pointed out that the three ordinances would make possession of slot machines illegal, regulate call for inspection of pinball machines, and require social clubs, newsstands and other businesses in the unincorporated areas of the county to be licensed and permit inspection at any time.

GARDEN: Luther Burbank Zinnias to Have 'Premiere'

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

As I opened the envelope, I thought it was an invitation to a formal wedding, and couldn't imagine who I knew in New York that might be married now. It was a large envelope and a full-folded sheet of that expensive paper used for engraving. Then my eye caught "The Waldorf Astoria" . . . (a debut I thought) . . . and that's what it is:

"Mr. David Burpee cordially invites you to attend the World Premiere of the Luther Burbank Zinnias on Tuesday afternoon, the Second of September, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Forty-Seven at Three O'clock in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria, New York."

Then in smaller engraving: "An informal illustrated talk on the Luther Burbank Zinnia and other new flowers will be given by Mr. Burpee. . . . Please present the enclosed card."

Two cards were enclosed: One the ticket admitting a couple; the other read, "The stamp that carried this invitation to you was issued in honor of Luther Burbank." If you're a philatelist, you already own the stamp, a three.

Three burps for Mr. Burpee, the undisputed Barnum of the seed business, and a gentleman with more angles on publicity than many a professional P.A. Unfortunately, my plans for Tuesday, Sept. 2, don't include the Waldorf, nor even New York.

University of California bulletin on Luther Burbank's Plant Contributions has the following: "Crossing of zinnias appears to have been carried on to a limited extent. No information as to what species or varieties were used to produce seedlings for selection purposes. Burbank Dwarf (1918). No history. "New . . . brilliant red and yellow shades of most perfect doubles." Burbank's Giant (1913). "This gigantic strain has flowers . . . of the most brilliant colors, in a variety of quaint shadings of scarlet, pink, salmon, yellow, white and bronze." Burbank Giant Dahlia Zinnia (1925). "Enormous double flowers, just like dahlias, of various . . . improved colors."

The descriptions in quotes are Luther Burbanks. Maybe, while we're on the subject, you'd like some of W. L. Howard's quotes. He wrote the U. C. bulletin. Of Burbank, he writes:

"During Burbank's working lifetime (1873-1926) he probably contributed or introduced more plants than any other single American in our history. Many of his productions have been of great importance to horticulture, past and present.

"Burbank was not connected with a learned institution and indeed had little scientific training. Starting his professional life as a market gardener in Massachusetts about 1870, he attempted to improve his vegetables by crossing varieties. To meet competition he tried to produce earlier-maturing types; but he had little success because he did not then know the importance of continuing his crosses to the second and third generations.

"Like Thomas Edison, Burbank was a self-made man. He attended the village schools and for one year, the Lancaster Academy. . . . In the midst of a financial depression that followed the failure of several San Francisco banks, Burbank started his own small nursery in Santa Rosa in 1875.

"Previously, besides working in a Petaluma nursery for a few months he had devoted considerable time to collecting seeds and bulbs of wild flowers, which he sold to eastern seedsmen."

Burbank was the first to use June budding in California, and by this means was able to propagate 20,000 prune trees in one year when the boom for prune trees was starting. Without refrigerated cars, dried fruits were much in demand after the transcontinental railroads were completed.

"Burbank was a hard worker, a shrewd business man, and more than a match for his older rivals. From the outset he gave much attention to 'novelties' — new or little-known old things, the unusual in fruits and flowers."

It's not surprising that the modern Burpee would now introduce his "Luther Burbank Zinnias." . . . Burbank and Burpee have more than the first three letters of their names in common. Both made their marks primarily as showmen and salesmen.

Prunes and peanut butter make a sandwich filling to put into the school lunch box. When the fruit has been soaked until soft, remove the pits, and grind the prunes. Mix the pulp with peanut butter. Chopped raw apples, chopped nuts, and other dried fruits add rich flavor to this combination.

Double School Sessions Set At Ravenswood and Willow

A new double-session schedule at Ravenswood and Willow Schools for the Fall term has been announced by the school board and the superintendent of schools, Paul Henry.

Revision of the original schedule set up at a board meeting last month was necessary in arranging the bus route, board members reported.

There will be two sessions for kindergarten pupils. First, fourth and fifth grade students will attend school in the morning. Second, third, and sixth graders will have their classes in the afternoon. Seventh and eighth grade students will attend school the full day.

Two sessions for kindergarten were arranged to take care of the increase in enrollment. Parents of kindergarten age children who have already done so are asked to register them at the Ravenswood School before classes begin Sept. 10. The school office is open Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday hours are 9 to 11:30 a.m.

The new schedule is as follows: Kindergarten, two sessions, 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 12 noon to 3 p.m.; first grade, 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon; second grade, 12:30 to 4 p.m.; third grade, 12:30 to 4 p.m.; fourth grade, 8 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.; fifth grade, 8 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.; sixth grade, 11:55 a.m. to 4:10 p.m.; and seventh and eighth grades, 8:30 a.m. to 3:45 p.m., including the lunch period.

Grand President Will Be Honored

Grand president of the Young Ladies Institute, Mrs. Joseph Britschgi of Redwood City, will be guest of honor at a communion breakfast on Sunday.

The members and guests will assist at Holy Mass at Mt. Carmel Church at 8 o'clock and will go to the Gables for breakfast, where they will hear an address by the Rev. Father William Butler, head of the diocesan retreat house for women, Vallambrosa, in Menlo Park.

A formal reception for Mrs. Britschgi will be held at the Redwood City Women's Club during the afternoon from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock.

Chairman for the breakfast is Mrs. Sherburne W. Klein. Mrs. J. R. McQuaid is in charge of the reception.

Machinist Sentenced For Failure to Provide

Antonio Lopez, 49, an unemployed machinist, was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe for failure to provide for his wife and family.

The failure to provide charge was brought by his wife, Antonia. Before he was placed in jail on Aug. 18, Lopez had resided with his wife and four of their eight children at 511 Bradford St. The family earlier this month was evicted from that home and Mrs. Lopez and the four minor children are living temporarily with one of the Lopez' married daughters.

Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore said that Lopez had been drawing $20 a week unemployment compensation and that the county has contributed $427.14 to the family's upkeep since the last part of May.

Junior Division Will Hold Show

San Mateo County Horsemen's Assn. Junior Division will hold a play day and horse show on Sunday at the Zwierlein Ranch on Portola Rd., Woodside ,beginning at 1 p.m

Margaret Jerez, chairman, announces that John J. Mayo and Mrs. Jean Elkus will be the judges for the events.

Classes to be shown and judged include jumping, stockhorses for 13 years and up, horsemanship in English style, stock horses for 12 years and under, pairs, horsemanship in Western style, trail horse, stake race, double bareback race, musical chairs.

The show is open to the public.

Faces 4 Charges After Collision

A 20-year-old Chicago merchant seaman was charged Monday afternoon with reckless driving, speeding, cutting in and failure to signal after the car he was driving assertedly caused a veteran South San Francisco policeman to crash into another car Saturday night.

The officer, Sgt. August Terragno, a member of the force for 18 years, suffered a possible head concussion. He was transferred from South San Francisco Hospital to Franklin Hospital in San Francisco.

Sergeant Terragno was chasing William Stark for speeding, pulled his motorcycle up alongside Stark and told him to pull over. Terragno pulled in back of Stark's car and Stark kept going. He came up on a slow moving vehicle and swerved suddenly to pass. Terragno was unable to swerve in time to avoid the vehicle Stark was passing.

Stark speeded on after the accident but was later apprehended in San Francisco. He was driving a car owned by Leo Sims of San Francisco.

Stark was placed in the South San Francisco jail and bail was set at $500 cash or $1000 bond. He was brought by South San Francisco Officer Mike Lumuth to Redwood City this morning for questioning by Dep. Dist. Atty. Henry Davis.

The complaint against Stark will be signed before Police Judge S. K. Robbins in South San Francisco, Officer Lamuth said.

Judge Cotton Says He Will Run Again

Superior Judge A. R. Cotton will run again in 1948 he said Monday. He will be 73 years old in December.

His announcement, which contradicted a report last Spring, led Wayne R. Millington, Redwood city attorney, to decide not to run for the office of superior judge, he said Monday.

Five county officers will be up for reelection.

Supervisors Alvin S. Hatch, board chairman, of Half Moon Bay; Thomas L. Hickey, South San Francisco, and Henry W. Edmonds, Redwood City, declared a few weeks ago that they would run again. Their statements came on the heels of a charge by County Executive Frederick Peterson who said that the people would have an opportunity next year to elect an economy-minded board.

Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig of South San Francisco, will also run again.

Judge Cotton who lives on the Borel Estate in San Mateo, has been in office twelve and a half years. He said, "I see no reason at this time why I should not run again."

He was appointed to the bench in 1935 after the death of Judge Franklin Swart, and the following year was elected in a three cornered race. In 1942 he was one of only two persons in 70 years to be elected to the Superior Court of San Mateo County without opposition.

At 16 Judge Cotton was the first student to enroll at Stanford when the university first opened its doors in 1891, and was graduated at the age of 19.

6 Persons Injured In Bayshore Traffic

Six persons were injured, one seriously, on San Mateo County highways over the weekend, the California Highway Patrol reported Monday.

Most seriously injured was Eva Mae Hayden, 27, of San Mateo, who suffered a fracture of the right hip. She was treated at South San Francisco Hospital and transfered to Community Hospital at San Mateo.

The accident occurred when the right front tire of the car in which she was riding with John Richard, 23, San Mateo, blew out and the car struck a guard rail on Bayshore Hwy. at Mills Field. The accident occurred at 3:30 a.m. Sunday.

Richard suffered minor injuries.

Injured in the same accident were Henry Berry, 55, San Mateo, and Forrest Granger, 18, of San Francisco. All the injured were treated at South San Francisco Hospital.

Willie B. Eckelman, 20, Salinas farmer, suffered minor injuries in a four car rear-end collision at 6:50 p.m. Saturday, on Bayshore Hwy. at San Bruno Rd.

Also injured was Mrs. Henrette Westland, 36, San Francisco who was riding with her husband, Charles B. Westland, 43, San Francisco.

Woodside Firemen Atend Barbecue

Members of the Woodside Volunteer Fire Assn. attended their annual berbecue for the firemen's wives on Sunday at the S. W. Morshead ranch near Portola.

About 100 persons attended the affair. Mr. Morshead is a former fire commissioner and one of the founders of the fire district.

Four new members were initiated into the organization. They are John Walter Johnson, James Cochran, Albert Pollesel and James Mackie.

Two members of the organization were presented gifts in recognition of membership in the organization over 20 years. Elzear J. Bonasant has been a member for 21 years, serving for 19 years as the treasurer. John Duzanica a 20 year member, is the president of the association.

George Hildebrant Claims Bride In Sunday Ceremony at Piedmont

In the Piedmont Community Church at 4 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 17, George Crozer Hildebrant, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Hildebrant of 425 Lincoln Ave., claimed as his bride, Joan Elaine Ponsford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Ponsford of Oakland.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white marquisette and taffeta made with a bustle back. Starched lace accented the dress and the lace motif was carried out in her headdress. A fingertip veil completed the ensemble. The bride's bouquet was a spring shower of white stock, stephanotis and bouvardia.

Sole attendant for the bride was her niece, Miss Pamela Reeve. She wore a blue-green watermarked faille dress and carried an arm bouquet of white stock with a tiara of white stock in her hair.

Dave Bishop served the benedict as best man. He is a University of California post graduate student.

Mrs. Ponsford, the bride's mother, was attired in beige crepe trimmed with wide beige Chantilly lace. A bronze orchid completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Hildebrant, mother of the benedict, wore a grey dress and flowered hat. Her corsage was white and rose orchids.

The reception was held following the ceremony in the College Women's Club before the young couple left on a wedding trip northward along the Redwood Hwy.

Joan is a graduate of the University of California with a major in journalism. She also completed work on a master's degree in political science and is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi.

Following graduation from Sequoia High School George attended UC. During his senior year there he was inducted into the army and as a pilot of a B-17 was shot down over Germany and remained a prisoner for 13 months. Following his release and return to California he resumed his studies at UC where he majored in music. He has one sister, Mrs. Robert Crisswell (Janis Hildebrant) who resides in Los Gatos.

The young couple will be at home wedding trip. George will be music to friends in Napa following their instructor in the Napa High School.

Doctors of Sequoia District and Their Families Will Have Picnic

The doctors of the Sequoia Hospital Dist. and their families will have a picnic at Flood Park on Sept. 14 beginning at 2:30 p.m.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Sequoia Hospital Society is hostess for the informal affair which, it is expected, about 50 will attend.

There will be the usual picnic pot luck supper complete with spaghetti, potato salad, hot dogs, coffee and ice cream.

Chairman of the arrangements committee is Mrs. Robert Merritt of 116 Tuscaloosa Ave., Atherton. Assisting her are Mrs. William Miles of 548 Vera Ave., Redwood City and Mrs. Stanley Lordeaux of 6 Princeton St., Menlo Park.

Mrs. Arden Hedge, 785 Hobart Ave., Menlo Park, is president of the association of doctors' wives, a group which was founded last Spring to help promote the Sequoia Hospital bond issue. Since the bond issue has been voted by a majority, the women are waiting until the new building is completed, at which time they will once again volunteer their services.

Gorse-Collins Troth Told

At a surprise birthday dinner party for Justine Eugenia Gorse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gorse, her parents surprised the guests with the announcement of their daughter's engagement to Robert Raymond Collins of San Carlos.

The party was held at the Gorse home on Magnolia Ave. The future bride was the recipient of many birthday gifts, best of all a diamond engagement ring from her fiance.

Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25, has been set for the wedding date with the ceremony to be performed in St. Charles Church with a wedding reception to follow.

Both young people were born in San Carlos and attended the local school. Justine is a graduate of Sequoia High School.

Robert, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Collins of Montgomery St., San Carlos, served overseas for three years. He now is employed with the Matthews Conveyor Co. in San Carlos.

Among the guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. R. King, the host and hostess and the affianced pair.

National Anthem Leads Hit Parade at Veterans Administration Hospital

The walls of the Veterans Administration Palo Alto Hospital resounded to the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" on Monday when veterans of both wars lifted their voices to the familiar measures of the national anthem, and stood "at attention," finally closing their demonstration of devotion with resounding cheers.

Presiding at the piano, Mrs. Robert D. Stetson closed her impromptu program with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Happy Birthday to You" while Gray Lady Corps hostesses distributed birthday gifts to August birthday celebrants throughout hospital wards and recreation rooms.

Thrilled to the heart by the spontaneous demonstration of convalescent veterans who have already proven their devotion in so many ways, to the American flag and "the Republic for which it stands," Red Cross Gray Lady Corps members busily distributed gifts, candies, cigarettes, cigars, ice cream and cakes to all patients.

Vacations, if any, are enjoyed by the Gray Lady Corps members who rarely miss a Monday in this, their devotion to the rehabilitation activities which comprise their duties.

Serving with the corps were Mrs. Rudolph Baum, Mrs. Robert D. Stetson, Mrs. Parker Toms, Mrs. H. A. Moore, Mrs. A. M. Wevang, Mrs. William L. Holloway, Mrs. Marjorie Dittmer, Mrs. Paul B. Thompson and Mrs. O. V. Burberick.

S.C. Kiwanis Club Switches Dates

The San Carlos Kiwanis Club will not meet next Monday noon because of the Labor Day holiday, but a luncheon meeting will be held on the Wednesday, Sept. 3, at the Gables for board members.

Let's Face It Kids, School Starts Soon

Registration in the Redwood City elementary schools for beginning kindergarten and first grade pupils will be held on Sept. 5 and Sept. 8, Supt. Andrew Spinas announced today.

Spinas said that new students must register between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. on those days, and that the schools would be closed Sept. 9, Admission Day. Classes begin Sept. 10.

According to Spinas there were 3215 pupils in the elementary schools last June and he said that he expected a slight increase in enrollment.

Spinas warned that new kindergarten and first grade pupils must bring a birth certificate or other documentary proof of age with them when they register.

Beginners must be at least 4 years and 6 months old as of Sept. 2 to register for kindergarten, and 5 years and six months to register for the first grade," Spinas said.

Classes at the Central School are to be doubled up, Spinas said, because the new Hoover School on Charter St. at Redwood Village has not been completed on schedule. The regular Central School pupils are to attend classes in the morning and the Hoover students in the afternoon.

Hours for morning classes are 8-11:40 o'clock for primary grades and 8-12:20 p.m. for fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Hours for the afternoon session are 12:40-4:20 o'clock for primary grades and 12:40-5 o'clock for four-sixth grades.

Spinas said that bus service will be provided for students who need it. A bus will run to Redwood Village as far as Fifth Ave., he said.

Although, the superintendent said, the schools are still badly overcrowded, only two other double session classes will be held, one at the Garfield School and the other at the John Gill School.

Spinas said that about 75 pupils are to be moved from the McKinley School to Washington, Lincoln and John Gills Schools to make room for more seventh and eighth graders.

According to present plans, Hoover School pupils attending the Central School will be moved to the new Hoover School as soon as it is completed. Spinas said that it was supposed to be finished by the beginning of the fall semester, but will not be completed for about six weeks. Spinas said that the delay was caused by shortages in materials.

The new Taft School which was supposed to be finished by the second week in September, has been held up by material shortages also, Spinas said, and will not be ready until December. A 60-day extension has been granted to the contractor, he said.

The Taft School and the new Monroe School should be ready for use by the spring semester, Spinas pointed out.

Reckless Driving Charge Filed

A 24-year-old former U.S. Army captain, William F. Kissel of 280 Seville Way, San Mateo, was arrested by Burlingame police early Wednesday for reckless driving.

Police said that Kissel, arrested by Officers Alfred M. Marion and Charles H. Thomas on Chapin Ave. after a chase of several blocks, was belligerent at being given a citation and was taken to the jail, where he is held in lieu of $100 bail.

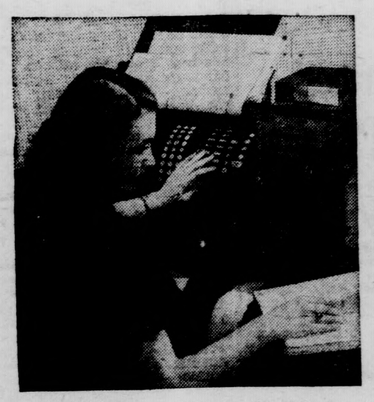
PAY $16,000,000 AND 00¢
TO THE ORDER OF SIXTY SEVEN THOUSAND EMPLOYEES
FIRST NATIONAL BANK

The monthly paycheck to our employees has been getting bigger all the time. In a year's time it has grown from nearly $13,500,000 to about $16,000,000. Thousands of new people have come with us to help with the big job we must do to meet the West's tremendous growth . . . and our employees are getting the best pay rates ever.



The girls who run these check-writing machines are mighty important people . . . not only in the lives of our 67,000 employees . . . but in your life, too. For they write thousands of checks each month. And all these checks, as they go into circulation, add to the total prosperity of everyone living in the communities we serve in the Pacific West.

About 60 cents of each dollar you pay for service is for employees . . . almost all the rest goes for taxes and other operating expenses. A few cents of each dollar go to more than 700,000 people, many of them Westerners, whose savings built the telephone system. Yes, your telephone dollar serves you, the butcher, the baker and the whole community.

New Working Dollars . . . Millions of new dollars needed to build buildings and buy new equipment to meet the public demand for more telephones and more service do not come from telephone bills. New dollars come from people who are willing to put their savings into the business. We must earn enough to attract these new working dollars.

'Redwood City Day' at Fiesta To Include Musical Program

Redwood City Day at the San Mateo County Fiesta, Sept. 10, will feature a one hour stage show entitled "Jan's Varieties," directed by Jan Demma.

B. B. Berman, better known as B.B.B., will emcee the show which will present dancers, singers and acrobats, all Redwood City's young talent.

One of the attractions is an 8-year-old accordionist, Nina Fazio, who will make her first public appearance at this time.

Other acts in the show include Sally Fay, singer; Yvonne and John Baker, songs and dances; Trene Mendevil, Spanish-American songs; Diane and Claudette Smithee, acrobats; Rusty's Big-Little Band; Ronnie Bender, songs and dances, and Barbara Madrid, tap dancer.

Raymond Lombardi, "the local Morton Downey," Carmen Rios, blues singer and Muriel Rae Raaen who will render songs in the Betty Hutton style.

Another feature is 3-year-old Rosemary Madrid who will perform acrobatics.

Most of these young people have performed in hospitals for veterans up and down the Peninsula, according to Miss Demma, who accompanies their numbers on the piano. Some have appeared at the Stage Door Canteen in San Francisco, she said.

Millbrae Woman Injured in Accident

Mrs. Adeline Satori, 57, of Millbrae, suffered minor injuries Tuesday when the car in which she was riding with Richard Satori, 59, Millbrae, and a truck driven by George L. Wagner, 28, San Francisco, collided.

Sheriff, Deputies Named in Suit

Gale Arnold, 37, Redwood City machinist, Tuesday filed an $18,000 damage suit against San Mateo County Sheriff James J. McGrath and three of his deputies for "wrongful arrest and imprisonment" on a vagrancy charge last April.

Deputies Benjamin Silverstein, Donald J. Harnett and William Blasser arrested Arnold Apr. 10 when they reported he was loitering near a lumberyard in the vicinity of a number of earlier lumber robberies. He was held in the county jail for eight hours without warrant.

Arnold charges the confinement cost him $10,000 worth of "inconvenience, discomfort, loss of time, and mental anguish." He is asking $3000 for his wife who was pregnant. He also asks $5000 of Sheriff McGrath in punitive damages.

Seaman Gets 130-Day Jail Term

Judge S. K. Robbins "threw the book" at a youthful speeder responsible for critical injuries suffered by Sgt. August Terragno, veteran South San Francisco police officer, Saturday afternoon on the Bayshore Hwy. in South San Francisco.

William J. Stark, 20-year-old merchant seaman of the SS Louis Sloss, now docked in San Francisco, was given his choice of paying a $500 fine or spending the next 130 days in the county jail.

Stark, who pleaded guilty Tuesday to the five separate violations of the state vehicle code — reckless driving, speeding, failing to give proper turning signal, no operator's permit and driving in the wrong lane, today was fined $300 on the reckless driving charge and $50 apiece on the other charges.

Alternate jail sentences were 90 days for the first count and 10 days for each additional count.

Stark is now trying to contact his parents in Ohio in order to raise the money to pay his fines.

Sergeant Terragno, who sustained a fractured skull and other critical injuries is now in Franklin Hospital under treatment of a brain specialist. Although it was thought at first he would lose his left eye, hospital authorities said today the danger was past.

Terragno, a veteran of 18 years on the police force, was chasing the speeding seaman when his motorcycle crashed into the rear of another car.

Stark, who continued on his way, was arrested two hours later in San Francisco at the apartment of a girl, a passenger in his car at the time of the accident.

ASK FOR DAMAGES

G. A. and Esther M. Wildman, 744 Fulton St., today filed suit for $10,401.67 damages against Roy Hoko Ikeda for a two-car collision on El Camino Real at Mt. Diablo Ave., San Mateo, on May 10. Mrs. Wildman suffered numerous injuries, according to the complaint.

Motorist Jailed After Accident

Raymond L. Marshall, 21, La Honda Rd., La Honda, was in the San Mateo County jail on a charge of injury drunk driving. He was arrested yesterday by Redwood City police after an accident at Rogers St. and El Camino Real which necessitated a rerouting of commuter traffic.

Police Lt. S. D. Wood said that Marshall was driving a beer truck at the time. The truck, Wood continued, apparently overtook a northbound automobile, driven by Joseph Reginato, 45, 2179 Lincoln Ave., East Palo Alto.

As the truck struck the car, Wood explained, it forced Reginato into the path of a car driven by Jack Lloyd, 51, Sharp Park, who was moving southwards on El Camino Real.

Both Reginato and Lloyd were treated for minor injuries at the Redwood City Clinic.

Peninsula Playgoer

BY DOROTHY NICHOLS

Now that the theatrical season is calming down a bit, the Playgoer has a chance to catch breath and bring forward a few personals that are of more than personal interest.

There was a stimulating afternoon with William Thornton, Shakespearean actor, who visited the Peninsula with extremely interesting plans. He is a very young looking person to have been leading player and managing director of the Shakespeare Guild's three tours between 1932 and 1935, but this is only the beginning. With the Shakespeare Guild, Thornton is working on long-range plans for a graduate institute which will prepare drama students for touring in classic plays.

He was in Palo Alto to consult Dr. Margery Bailey of Stanford. He visited Lillian Fontaine, whose daughters, Olivia de Haviland and Joan Fontaine developed their early enthusiasm for classic plays with their mother and Dorothea Johnston of Saratoga. He attended rehearsals at Hillbarn. Robert Brauns, director, trained with the Shakespeare Guild and was on tour with Thornton.

Thornton was Stanford's first "artist-in-residence," having presented "Othello" here in 1935. He was a Stanford student until his senior year and then studied with Gilmor Brown at Pasadena, and toured in Walter Hampden's company.

The plans for the institute and touring company have a double purpose, for they will bring theater to barren spots in the country, the classics to places that have never seen them and to generations that have never had a chance even to see plays. Equally important, they will give young actors a place to go where they can acquire experience in actual theater work of the hardest kind. It is even possible that Canadian and Australian companies, and South American visits will come within range of the Guild. Dramatists' Alliance, in its South American Summer and in translations of plays has been working to prepare this ground.

What this leads to in practical fashion is a genuinely national American theater. Decentralization is one of the crying needs. Blanche Yurka, who stopped off at Stanford to talk to the drama students this Summer about ANTA, referred to Times Square from the actor's point of view, as nauseating. The desperate waiting for something to turn up, even in the case of well-known actors, just by chance, success that can be followed the next year by starvation, was described by her with passionate feeling.

Caught between rising costs, real estate greed, demands of unions, the Broadway Theatre is almost strangled, and what is left is a gambler's chance. This is the first year, as some critic pointed out, that the theater has admitted its plight without blaming it all on the movies. Here on the Peninsula, where we have just had the best year of our lives, theatrically, it is hard to remember that a national theater doesn't exist.

Miss Yurka talked of American National Theatre and Academy, an awkward title for a highly promising idea. ANTA would operate in the manner of a foundation, lending and giving money where a worthy enterprise needed help. ANTA has already helped, among others, the Utah Centennial, and the Barter Theatre, which has become the State Theatre of Virginia. It would make possible local professional groups, and again, get away from the New York domination, and give young actors a place to go. In the present set-up of the theater, as Miss Yurka put it, "idealism is penalized."

Operas that made Broadway, Menotti's "The Medium" and "The Telephone" were broadcast recently, and listeners may not have noticed a local singer in the cast. This was Frank Rogier, whose name was anglicized when he was at Stanford, and pronounced in the French way on the radio. Rogier sang here in the Opera Workshop's radio production of Menotti's first success, "The Old Maid and the Thief." In "The Medium," he was the grieving father who attends the seance.

The Playgoer thought at once of Marjorie Dickinson when hearing "The Telephone," since it is a kind of contemporary "Secret of Suzanne." If and when it is released, it is just possible we will have more Menotti here.

Speaking of opera, Beta Popper, singing the mother's part in "Hansel and Gretel" at Stern Grove this Summer, had her first experience of working under the stage director, Agnini. He will direct in the Fall season, when she is to sing one of the Rhine Maidens in "Gotterdammerung" and a sewing girl in "Louise," at the Opera House.

Trucking Firm Sued for $25,576

A trucking firm and its driver using the Mills Field haul road at Millbrae was sued in superior court here Monday for $25,576.90 by another truck driver.

Chester Rickard charged in the suit that a boulder fell from the Guy F. Atkinson Co. truck operated by Jim Thomas on July 8 and struck him on the head, causing numerous injuries.

Rickard, who stated he was earning $96.15 a week asked $25,000 general damages and $576.90 for time lost from work and hospital bills.

Plan good eating for Labor Day weekend

by Carol Drake

Nothing quite like good food, especially good that is, to give the Labor Day weekend a holiday air.

FROZEN ORANGE CRUSH will start the day bright. Pour orange juice into refrigerator trays; freeze to mush. Serve in sauce dishes with a saucy sprig of mint.

WHOLE KERNEL CORN FOLDED INTO SCRAMBLED EGGS with some chopped chives or parsley is a sunny surprise! (Sure, leftover roasting ears can be dekerneled for corn, but who ever has any left over?)

CRUSTY PAPRIKA POTATOES, another help to spending the day "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree." Boil medium-size potatoes, jackets on, at same time ribs are simmering. When it's dinner time, peel, dip in melted butter, then roll in crushed corn flakes, paprika and salt. Put under broiler with ribs until heated through.

No more of this!

No more fumbling with your house key because inadequate wiring failed to include a switch-controlled light for a dark porch.

No more complaints from the lady of the house who plaintively asks,

"Why didn't we put in enough electric outlets so I can use my vacuum cleaner or electric toaster without a bothersome tangle of cords and wobbly plugs?"

Yes, Adequate Wiring brings the convenience of plenty of outlets properly placed. It brings more light switches. It means more wiring circuits of large enough wire (at least size 12) to deliver full power electricity.

Insist on Adequate Wiring in the home you buy or build.
